

Zoning Information – Lee Estate – Loudon County

R-1 (Suburban Residential District) Is intended to provide areas which are suitable for low-density single and multiple-family residential development. This district is particularly suitable for areas adjacent or near urban areas, where adequate public water supply or public wastewater service is available. The principle uses of land range from single-family to multi-family apartment uses.